

Master Paging Console MPC-8

For the end-user the Master Paging Console is the main unit of the MusiCall system. Two consoles can be connected to one system. Placed at the front desk or at the security lodge, individual zones can be addressed via the panel. Furthermore two zone groups can be assigned to address groups of zones. A chime is implemented to lead a message.

Main features

- The 'Master-Slave' or 'Room-combining' function can couple zones together, to obtain the same signal source for use in flexible meeting rooms or in multi area restaurants.
- The maximum volume settings can be adjusted to maintain supervision over the sound level to avoid noise pollution.
- All programmable functions are accessible by the Master Console.

The MPC-8 paging console can be connected to the MPM8.8 mono and MPM8.8 stereo systems.
